About MotionInfo

MotionInfo is an innovative leader in real-time tracking and monitoring solutions, dedicated to advancing safety, operational efficiency, and environmental stewardship across industries. Leveraging our proprietary technology, MotionInfo delivers actionable insights for both the aviation and marine sectors through its two primary divisions: Aero and Maritime Information Systems.

Aero Division

Overview: Aero offers sophisticated tools for private pilots, fleet operators, and airport managers, enhancing aviation operations with real-time tracking and coordination solutions. Products like Aero Ops 360 and Aero Reserve streamline resource management, improve safety, and provide actionable insights for better decision-making.

Maritime Information Systems Division

Overview: Maritime Information Systems (MIS) focuses on oceanic and coastal monitoring, combining technology with conservation efforts. The division supports industries like shipping, undersea cable maintenance, and environmental protection. Key initiatives, such as StationKeeper, protect fragile marine ecosystems while enhancing maritime operations with advanced tracking and data analysis.
